Dear Friends of Good Health and the Environment:

We are pleased to announce the publication of Domestic 007: Eliminating Hidden Killers in Your Home, the book that you helped to complete by providing the necessary information on yourself as a source of healthy living products or information. The book is now available to the public for referencing safe and toxin-free living practices, products and information. Your organization's or company's name, address and/or phone number is listed in the Appendix entitled either Product Sources or Further Resources.

If you would like to distribute the book as an addition to your product line or service, you can obtain copies of the book directly from us at wholesale by calling (301) 588-8517 or by writing Earth-Wise Publications at the address above. To contact us by Email, the address is 75734.1202@compuserve.com or earthwise_greenglobe@compuserve.com. If you would like a preview copy of the book, more information about the book or author, please let us know.

Thank you for your attention.

Sincerely,

Maryla Records

Domestic 007

Domestic 007 teaches you how to be your own "secret agent" in your home – to search out and rid your home of toxic or cancer-causing chemicals, agents causing chronic disease or allergies and other factors affecting your health and well-being. The book gives many simple and inexpensive solutions and alternatives, product sources, disposal tips, even sources of the latest cancer breakthroughs. The format of the book is easy to read, with quick and succinct information . . .

well-organized as a reference you will reach for again and again.
